REGINA, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Hayter Reed, wife of the Indian Commissioner, died very suddenly at 2 o'clock to-day. The cause was inflammation, which started on Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The body will be interred in Winnipeg. Drs. Jukes, Dudd and Cotton were in attendance.

Sept. 25.—Joe Kemp died this evening. Michael Deety was alive when found, but one of his feet had to be cut off near the ankle in order to remove the body.

Great indignation is felt at the want of prompt measures on the part of the civic authorities, and Local and Federal Governments. The feeling is such that a riot is spoken of among the crowd of rescuers and others.

The body of Mrs. Mayberry was found this morning, but it was so badly disfigured by rocks and rats that her son, aged 17, could only identify her from rings on her fingers.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 27, 1889.

For some reason or another there appears to be very little interest manifested by the people of the district in the exhibition of the Lorne Agricultural Society, to be held next week. This is not as it should be. Every farmer in the place should be alive to the importance of such an event, and should take such a live interest in the society as would assure the success of its annual shows. We are informed that only a limited number of our friends are members of the society. Where does the fault lie? We are also aware that a great deal of dissatisfaction exists as to the manner in which the affairs of the society are managed. We do not say that they are mismanaged. We know nothing personally about the matter, but we have heard on reliable authority that prizes which were awarded last year have not been paid yet. If such is the case there is certainly cause of complaint. The officers seem to be lax in their duty at the present time, every effort should be put forth to make the coming exhibition as attractive, and to have as large an exhibit of the products of the district as possible, but beyond getting the prize list printed, nothing appears to have been done so far in that direction. It is about time something was done to awaken a more general interest. We hope the exhibition will be a success and that there will be a full display of the products of the farm and garden as well as of the dairy and stock farm.

It does not look as if the people of Great Britain were counting upon the time when their colonies would slip away from them and be engulfed in the depths of Goldwin Smithism. In fact, maintenance of the British Empire is taken as a matter of course, and the public man of prominence who argues anything else does not exist. As an instance of this feeling that Imperial unity is to endure, the Edinburgh Scotsman says: "It would be a good thing if colonial travel and experience were made a condition of taking office in the Imperial Government. When it is remembered how vast are our colonial possessions, and how great a part they must play in the world's drama in the future, it becomes plain that our statesmen ought to have intimate acquaintance with them. Who shall say what mistakes would have been avoided in the past if our colonial Ministers had visited our colonies and studied their constitution and their desires?" The colonies are not to be interfered with, but are to furnish lessons in home policy by their individual development and experience.

In order to show that the national terror of a Chinese invasion by immigration is not a wholly baseless fear in the United States, the collector at the port of San Francisco has published a return of the number of Chinese who have entered the country during the past sixty-five years. According to this showing, between the years 1820 and 1873, 201,055 Chinese landed. They seem not to have begun their migrations in the early part of this period, for between 1820 and 1831 only two Chinese are reported to have entered. After that they began to come over in greater numbers, and by 1888 361,693 Chinese were in the country. In 1882 35,000 arrived, and this number so shocked the sensibilities of the Yankees that the Restriction Act was passed, and this reduced the arrivals to 2 in 1888. Now there is what is supposed to be a total exclusion Act on the statute books, and if any Chinese still find their way into the hospitable republic, they do not honor the San Francisco collector of customs with a call.

That China is at last really awakening to some of the advantages of western civilization is apparent in the decision of the Government to push forward the Hankow railway. The first railway in the Empire, a short one, was torn up by an angry populace, and last year work on the eighty miles of road built had to be abandoned in deference to the prejudices of a portion of the people. The anti railway party actually circulated with effect the report that Europe regretted that she had built railways and was now abandoning them, and was foisting her discarded rails on China. Now, however, a big Chinese railway is likely to be come an accomplished fact. Perhaps the extension of the Russian railways through Siberia and Tartary has had something to do in inducing a decided policy at Pekin in regard to an improvement of immense political importance to the Celestial Empire.

Our new steamship line on the Pacific has opened up a traffic between the British Columbia ports and China, independent of the through business. Vancouver was visited lately by Mr. F. R. Martin, of Formosa, China, who returned there when he had finished his business. He described the island of Formosa as having progressed wonderfully of late years, as illustrating the improvements of our civilization such as railways, telegraphs, electric lighting, etc., with great aptitude. But what will interest Canadians most of all is the account given of the labors of Dr. McKay, the devoted missionary from Canada. The Vancouver World says: "Every Canadian reader will be pleased to learn that the secular and religious education of the Chinese in Formosa is most successfully carried out by Dr. A. McKay, a native of Oxford, Ontario, and who has proven most conclusively that one earnest, zealous man, even beset with many difficulties, can accomplish a wonderful amount of good. Mr. Martin knows the doctor and can testify to the thoroughness of the work carried on by this earnest labourer in the Master's vineyard in that far-off country. Dr. McKay has established no less than fifty native hospitals throughout the island, the most important of which is at Tamsui, where the civil resident doctor—Dr. Rennie—gives his services gratuitously. His colleges, one of which is Oxford, named after his native county, is a well-established and popular institution."

LOCAL NEWS.
Mr. W. R. Gunn Homestead Inspector made an official visit to Carrot River this week, and did not go to attend the annual agricultural exhibition, as incorrectly stated in the Saskatchewan.

On Monday last rain fell all day. Coal Oil and Ammunition arrived at Agnew's.

Thos. McKay's portable saw mill is cutting up all the firewood in town.

Senator Hardisty, Chief Factor of the H. B. Co. at Edmonton, arrived in town on Saturday last. Mr. Hardisty is on a tour of inspection of the northern post belonging to the Hudson's Bay Co., and was as far north as Peel River. He left again on Wednesday for Winnipeg.

The funeral of the late Freddy Stewart took place on Saturday last. The remains were interred in St. Paul's cemetery, and was followed to the grave by a large number of citizens of the town and settlers throughout the district. Rev. Dr. Jardine read the burial service.

Mr. H. Belanger, son of H. Belanger, Chief Factor of the H. B. Co., formerly stationed at Cumberland, was in town this week purchasing goods to open a trading post at Cumberland. Mr. Belanger will do well in his new venture as he is well known and a great favorite at Cumberland.

Capt. Hoey, M.L.A. for Kinitino, was in town this week and called on THE TIMES, leaving us three large rolls of as fine butter as we ever tasted. Capt. Craig also sent us in, by one of his best boys, three bags of very fine vegetables. We would be thankful if more of the farmers would do likewise, as our larder is very empty.

TO THE DEAF—A person cured of Deafness and noises in the head of 29 years standing by simple remedy. Will send a description of it FREE to any person who applies to Nicholson, 30 St. John street Montreal.

TERRITORIAL NEWS

BATTLEFORD.

From the Herald, Sept. 11.

Indian treaty payments will begin in this district about the 8th October.

The Mounted Police from this place reached Regina on Saturday. They evidently took the trip easy.

The stage came in on Sunday afternoon—nearly a day ahead of schedule time. Mr. Kennedy, the bridge contractor, was a passenger.

Four degrees of frost on the night of the 3rd nipped some of the more tender vines in the gardens, but potatoes, tomatoes and some other things of the kind were not touched.

The Lord Bishop of Saskatchewan, accompanied by Rev. A. H. Wright, of Prince Albert, Rev. L. J. Taylor, of Onion Lake, and Rev. E. K. Matheson, of this place, arrived from Prince Albert on the 4th inst.

J. Minty, a mill expert, arrived from Regina on Tuesday and proceeded on to Onion Lake. He will examine the machinery of the Indian mill at Frog Lake, the building of which was interrupted by the rebellion, with a view of ascertaining what extent it yet can be utilized.

A foot of snow is reported to have fallen at Saddle Lake and Victoria on Monday night, and a slight fall at Pitty yesterday morning. At Battleford it rained heavily yesterday—the first steady rain we have had since the early part of June. It will do good, in that it will quench the prairie fires on the one hand, and on the other make the land fit for ploughing this fall.

The larger boys at the Industrial school cradled the grain grown for the institution. Half a dozen of them worked together and did their work admirably, keeping time as well as the best old-time cradlers could have done. This is the right kind of instruction to give the Indians.

REGINA.

From the Leader, Sept. 17.

Snow storms were reported last week at Calgary and Edmonton.

S. Shannon this season dug up a potato in his garden weighing 1 lb. 2 1/2 oz.

The officials of the Northwest Government will give a dance on Friday evening at the Council Chamber.

Mr. Jelly, M.L.A., says he estimates his crop to average twenty bushels to the acre, despite the dry year, and he considers this a low estimate.

The Mayor received a telegram this afternoon saying that the Governor-General and suite will arrive in Regina on Oct. 3rd and leave on the 5th.

A telegram on Saturday from Toronto says:—"Passengers down from the Northwest by steamer Athabasca report that about 1 o'clock this morning when the boat was about seven miles from Owen Sound a second class passenger named Grose jumped overboard. The steamer was stopped but his body could not be recovered. Little was known of the suicide save that he came from Regina and was bound for St. Mary's." The person thus referred to was not generally known. He worked for some time, we understand, in Messrs. Martin & Betteridge's brick yard.

EDMONTON.

From the Bulletin, Sept. 7.

Prairie chickens are more numerous than usual this summer.

T. P. Wadsworth, Inspector of Indian Agencies, arrived from Saddle Lake on Wednesday.

The annual matches of the Edmonton Rifle Association will take place on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th October.

Last week a sheaf of oats grown by A. McNabb, of Stony Plain, was sent to Calgary to be placed on exhibition there, Leeson & Scott taking it out free of charge.

Senator Hardisty was at Fort McMurray on August 19th, having returned from his visit to Peel's river, and was on his way to Isle la Crosse and Prince Albert by the long portage route. His general health is good, but he suffered somewhat from rheumatism.

The stables used by the mounted police detachment stationed at Edmonton were burned on Wednesday night, together with thirteen horses, twelve belonging to the force and one belonging to W. Fitzgerald, who hauls water for the detachment. The stables are several hundred yards distant from the Hudson's Bay fort in which the barracks occupied by the police are situated, and the hay recently delivered was stacked between the fort and stables. Two policemen were at the stables shortly after 9 o'clock, putting a horse in, when they did not notice any fire. At about 9:40 the flames were bursting through the roof of stable near the centre. The fire was first seen by Mrs. Hardisty from her residence, which overlooks the fort and stables. Sergts Davidson and Grogan succeeded in getting out the only horse saved. Const. Tuke succeeded in getting a horse to the middle door but could not get him out. The stamping and expressions of agony of the horses as the flames devoured them were terrible. The wind was not high and what there was carried the flames away from the hay stacks, which made it possible to save them. The cause of the fire is at present unknown, but may be discovered at the official investigation which takes place on Monday. The loss is estimated at $2,500.

FORT MALEOD.

From the Gazette, Sept. 12.

Fifteen Mormon teams came in yesterday loaded with lumber.

There is some doubt about the Governor-General coming to Macleod this fall.

Preparations were made for a stampede from Lethbridge to the oil fields this week.

Nearly all the small lakes in this vicinity are dry, and the ducks, which are not over plentiful, are all in the sloughs and running streams.

The snow storm of the past week visited most parts of the mountain country. At Calgary it was reported to be seven inches deep; at Pincher Creek and further south about two inches. At Macleod there was the smallest possible showing, and at Lethbridge none.

In the case of Pony, Two Eagle, Blue Shell and Stripe, the Indians arrested for driving stolen horses into this country from the Northwest Territory, an examination was held before Judge Duff. They were placed under bonds of $1,000 each, in default of which they were remanded to jail to appear before the grand jury at the fall term of court.—River Press.

CALGARY.

From the Tribune, Sept. 11.

Sometime during the night the building known as the bowling alley collapsed with a crash and this morning is a complete wreck. Some parties were in it at the time having a game when it began to crack; they got out in double quick time. A couple of stoves, some furniture and a billiard table were in the premises at the time and all are more or less injured.

We presume it is almost unnecessary to state that owing to the storm of Sunday night and Monday morning, the track was in no condition to hold races, consequently they were postponed for a few days, when it is hoped the ground will be sufficiently dried up to enable them to proceed with.

We regret that Billy Bannister, foreman on Hull Bros. ranch, had the misfortune to break his leg, Monday. He with some others were trying to drive some cattle into the corral and there being one or two that would not drive, he had thrown the rope and was leading one; the animal started to run and the ground being slippery the horse was jerked off his feet and fell on his rider breaking his leg between the knee and ankle. He was brought to town and medical aid summoned to reduce the fracture.

LETHBRIDGE.

From the News, Sept. 11.

The river is lower now than it has been for some time.

The Little Bow round up started on its round up yesterday morning. It will work west and gather fat cattle on its way.

A horse was killed, by the train which arrived here at 1:05 this morning, about a mile from town. It jumped on to the cowcatcher after being struck and had to be chopped to pieces to be taken off.

Should this meet the eye of any person who can furnish any clue, that would lead to the discovery of George Skelding, they would confer a favor by communicating with Chas. Skelding, Belmore, Ont. When last heard of he was about 600 miles west of Regina, N.W.T.

Yesterday we were shown a head of cabbage grown on the rancho of Mr. Sharon, across the river, which weighed 20 lbs. Mr. Sharon has some growing which are much larger than this and which if they do not burst will almost equal the cabbage grown at Whoop-Up several years ago, and which weighed 40 pounds per head.

COMMUNICATIONS.

It must be distinctly understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by correspondents. Correspondents must give their names in full, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

A DENIAL.

To the Editor of the Times.

SIR,—I notice an article in the Saskatoon this week regarding fish, under head of Editorial Notes which is utterly false and misleading, in stating that "about four tons of fish, consisting of whitefish and trout, were caught in the lakes north of Prince Albert during the close season last winter, and exported. These fish were principally caught by unlawful means." I will ask what does the editor mean by "unlawful means?" No fish were caught by unlawful means. We do not have to resort to unlawful means to procure fish, as they are plentiful enough without. None were caught for exportation during the close season, as the fishermen did not leave town till one day after the close season had expired. The fish were caught by hooks and nets, regulation size only. With regard to the amount exported the Saskatchewan is entirely wrong. Also in an article in the same paper of the preceding week, which is equally untrue, it reads, "Outsiders are engaging in an indiscriminate slaughter of the fish, which they catch by all manner of means, whether lawful or not, for sale and export." I would suggest that before the editor writes more on the subject, he had better inform himself with regard to fishing, the regulations, and otherwise obtain some truth about the subject he is interesting himself so much about.

F. J. DOOLITTLE.

DUCK LAKE.

The citizens of Duck Lake and vicinity gave a farewell dinner to Mr. A. J. McNeill, of the Indian Department, on Tuesday last at the Duck Lake house. About thirty were present. Mr. A. N. Peterson, of Carlton, acted as chairman, with Mr. H. Kelly in the vice-chair. After justice had been done to the magnificent dinner and the cloth removed, the usual toasts were commenced. "The Queen and Royal Family" was ably responded to by Mr. A. H. Mitchell. "The Governments" brought H. Mitchell, M.L.A., to his feet. He dwelt with the Legislative Assembly at great length, and also spoke of the wonderful progress made in this country since his coming to it. "Our Agricultural Interests" was responded to in a neat speech by Mr. Kelly. "Commercial Interests" was well handled by Mr. Pozor, and Mr. J. McKenzie replied to "Our Manufactures." Mr. McNeill, in replying to the toast of the evening, "Our Guest," made a very neat speech. He deeply regretted leaving this town as he had so many warm friends here. He was a servant of the Government and had to go where they wished. He had lived in the Territories a number of years and been in a great many places but he liked none as well as Duck Lake, and it would always have a warm place in his heart. "The Press" was replied to by Mr. H. McCleneghan, an old-time printer. Ambrose Fisher spoke at great length in response to "The Old Settlers." He said he was born in the United States but had lived in this country a great many years and liked the Canadians, but he was still a Yankee. He mentioned the names of many of the old settlers and in speaking of them, made him think he was getting old. Speeches were also made by Mr. Peterson, Mr. Lovell and others, together with a number of good songs. The party broke up about 2:30 a.m. after spending one of the most pleasant evenings ever known in this district. Mr. S. McKenzie deserves special mention for the more than magnificent spread. All present spoke feelingly of Mr. McNeill's leaving and wished him every success and prosperity. What is our loss is Battleford's gain. Mr. McNeill's removal is a promotion both in salary and position.

Hector Ballentyne, of Prince Albert, has bought an engine and separator from Wm. Stobart & Co. He will get it running as soon as possible.

Wm. Stobart & Co. have been awarded the contract for supplying Indians at Carlton and Duck Lake with flour.

One day this week Mr. Kelly, of Erina court, showed your correspondent two extra large potatoes; one weighing five and a quarter pounds and the other three and one-eighth pounds. They were of the Early Rose variety.

A smutster and cleaner are on the road for our grist mill.

Wheat is being sold at from 90c to $1. Indian Agent Finlayson has been confined to his bed for the past few days.

Your correspondent was presented with a dozen ripe tomatoes-to-day, grown here in the open air. They had to be covered at night for the past week.

THE GREAT SOD-TURNING.

The following is Grip's account of the turning of the first sod of the Q. & L. L. R. in August last:—"You have received by telegram the bare facts connected with turning the first sod of the new Regina & Long Lake Railroad; but no telegram, no pen, could do justice to the imposing scene, as it unfolded before those who were eye-witnesses. As Mr. Davin assisted Mrs. Dewdney from the platform to the spot where the virgin soil was to be broken, it was remarked that, like all sensible ladies in elevated positions, she set a worthy example to the poor people who were spectators, by the plainness of her dress; the bright pink calico she wore reflected in its cheery folds the brilliancy of the sun, and—but why attempt a description? The art of the photographer has given it, in imperishable characters, to posterity. After Mrs. Dewdney had gracefully turned the sod, it was gently carried and tenderly placed in a safe receptacle within the private car of the Hon. Minister of the Interior. The hand then played a medley. Then followed speeches. If eloquence could build a road, the assembled crowd would have been able at the close of those speeches to step on board a waiting train, and proceed to Prince Albert as fast as steam could propel. Alas! even great minds must wait on matter and manual labor. As the last silvery strains of the impassioned utterances of the orators of the day floated away in the distance, the listening people said, 'Surely these be gods, and not men!' Their glowing words must have floated on until in Toronto you would have heard the words, 'I, railroad,' had not a prairie fire caught them and burned them to cinders—even now they may be ascending in smoke, startling the denizens of other worlds! Lieut. Gov. Royal was the first speaker. He assured us that many men had promoted this railroad scheme, but Mr. Macdowell had done the most—in fact, Mr. Macdowell was the 'greatest Roman of them all.' Mr. Dewdney endorsed what Mr. Royal had said and gave a complete history of the efforts made, and by whom this gigantic work had been accomplished. He took his seat amid a storm of applause, but came forward again to say that Mr. Davin had done what he could; a little side issue he forgot to mention. Mr. Macdowell modestly admitted that he was the man who had achieved all this glory, and in a most unassuming way admitted that Davin and others had helped in the promotion of this great enterprise."

"Mr. Davin, goaded by the evident intention of the speakers to ignore his services, upon rising to speak, told what he had done—and it left very little for anybody else to do, except to furnish money, and a few little essentials required in building a railroad."

"One thing these men of might did not mention, and it was a fact most patent to all present. Great men are a production of this Northwest, independent of rain or drought. Wheat and oats may fail, but statesmen and orators are a certain crop."

"Great brains from little brainlets grow. Great thoughts from little thinklets flow; Great men this soil can grow, as grow, As we can show, can show, and blow."

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23.—The Governor-General and party arrived here at seven o'clock this evening. A torchlight procession met the train and escorted them to Governor Schultz's residence.

Sept. 24.—The Governor was presented with addresses from the City Council and University, to which His Excellency made lengthy replies. A regatta was got up, in honor of the Governor, and was a success. Civic and state dinners were held, to which a great many people were invited, but few appeared to meet their Excellencies. The state dinner was held at Government house at 8 o'clock p.m., when about forty people sat down.

Sept. 25.—The day was spent in inspecting the different colleges. The mounted infantry corps turned out about seventy-five strong, and were inspected by his Excellency; the General Hospital was visited, after which the party were entertained at dinner in the Manitoba Club, which was only attended by members of the club. Stony Mountain will be visited, and the party will leave for Portage la Prairie early on Friday morning to go over the M. and N. W. road.

GALT, Sept. 25.—James Wilford's son, fifteen years old, was struck by a passing train. The injuries he received will prove fatal.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 24.—A tornado passed over the state last evening, doing great damage. The loss will aggregate $40,000.
